NOT TO BE COERCED

Stewart's Resolution Aimed at Cleveland's Impeachment

REPEAL BILL THE CAUSE

Censure Resolution Discussed as Length and Finally Referred to Committee on Rules.WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Mr. Stewart offered the following resolution and said he would introduce the same next Monday.

Resolved, That the independence of the co-ordinate departments of the government, the legislative, the executive and the judicial, must be maintained and the use of power and influence of one department to control the action of another is a violation of the constitution and destructive of our form of government.

The censure resolution was taken up and Mr. Turpie addressed the senate in opposition to it. There had been he said, but one way since 1866 of bringing about a vote in the senate on any measure that was "on unanimous consent." Censure was declared as a suppression, repression and a statement suppressed. A member of the senate repeated was sure to be sent back by the people, no longer in the minority, but in a majority. A vote by force was not a vote, a vote by compulsion was not free action. He cited cases in the reign of the Stuart, of England, and argued from them that obstruction was an extreme remedy. But in his mind there was no reason for either extortion—that of censure or that of obstruction. A middle ground could be found and adopted with greater ease than either.

Mr. Dubois was opposed to the introduction of a censure rule in the midst of an exciting debate.

Censure Resolution Referred.

Mr. Call opposed the censure resolution because he regarded it as a proposition to forbid debate and to close the only avenue of intercourse between the senate and the great mass of people—the press being in the control and ownership of the great moneyed interests of the country.

At the close of Mr. Call's remarks the censure resolution was, on the motion of Mr. Platt, its author, referred to the committee on rules. There was an effort on the part of Mr. Voorhees to take up the repeal bill, but Mr. Jones reminded the senators that there was a matter pending in executive session which would occupy the remainder of the day. It was suggested by Mr.
Voorhees that it would be time enough to go into executive session at 4 o'clock and Mr. McPherson wanted to know whether any question of appointments to office was of sufficient importance to justify neglect or delay as to the repeal bill. The discussion in the opinion of Mr. Chandler was drifting too dangerously near to a revelation of executive secrets, and finally Mr. Voorhees himself submitted the motion and the senate proceeded to executive business, in which it remained until 4 o'clock when it adjourned until Monday at 11 a. m.

WHY BRITZ WAS HUFFY.

Wanted Maxwell Investigated for Not Appointing a Postmaster.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The house was amused this morning by a question of privilege raised by Mr. Brizet. It was in regard to the failure of the fourth assistant postmaster general in declining to change postmasters in a little village in his district. Mr. Brizet then sent to the clerk's desk and had read one of the letters on which he based his charges.
It was from the postoffice and addressed to the chairman of the republican committee of the county. In it he said he would be the straight republican ticket. He was sorry that he had not done so the last time. On the 19th of the month he had received a letter from the postmaster which he had filed, on which he had based supplemental charges with the fourth assistant postmaster general. He asked to have the letter read. It was a letter from the postmaster to Mr. Brizet appearing to him that he might be reluctant in office. The postmaster declared he was a democrat and went on to say: "I will make you a present of $10 if you will let me keep the office. I shant make you a present of this sum." [Laughter.] I hope you will keep this letter strictly between me and you, I write the postmaster in conclusion.
[Laughter.] On this letter Mr.
Brizet said he had filed a charge of bribery. He then offered a resolution for the appointment of a committee of three members to investigate the reasons why Mr. Maxwell had not made the change requested, and asked unanimous consent for its consideration, but objection was made.

The report of the committee on accounts giving an additional check to the committee on civil affairs was reported until Monday, and the house proceeded to the consideration of the bill remitting the penalties on account of the delay in the construction of the dynamite cruiser Yavous. Pending into the morning hour expired and the committee rose. The printing bill was then laid before the house as the unfinished business.

Killed by S.I.K.

PETERSBURG, Mich., Sept. 23.—This afternoon Al Wiley shot and fatally wounded his wife and was himself instantly killed by a S.I.K. named Henry Sik. The tragedy occurred at Kegonsa, where the Wileys kept a boarding house. The couple had never lived happily together since their marriage, seven years ago. They separated three weeks ago, Wiley leaving his wife to run the house. He returned this afternoon and called his wife into a room and tried to persuade her to live with him again. She refused positively, and Wiley drew a revolver. As she fled towards the door he fired four shots, all taking effect. One grazed the head, one entered the arm at the elbow, a third took effect in the side and the last passed through the right lung.
Henry Sik, a boarder, rushed into the room and claimed that Wiley pointed his revolver at him. Wiley had previously threatened Sik's life. Sik dodged behind the door and reaching his arm around fired four shots. When he arrived Wiley lay on his face in a pool of blood and had been dead for some time.
The body and another struck him squarely in the forehead. The woman said Wiley had shot himself, but Sik frankly admitted that he fired the fatal shots. He has not yet been arrested.
The woman is still alive but cannot live.

"We have been running almost continuously since leaving here Tuesday afternoon. We visited every lighthouse and all accessible points along the shore, but could not find any clue to the robbers whereabouts. We saw where they had beached their yacht after their fight with the officers and it is safe to say that they are hiding in the dense cedar swamps along the shore. We gave chase to a yacht which closely resembled the burglars but on halting it we found we had made a mistake. The land hunt for the robbers is still in progress."

Captured Today.

WASHINGTON, Ind., Sept. 23.—A courier brought word to this city from Harrison township this afternoon that the officers have located the murderers of the Written family of six persons, two in number in the woods near Porters-ville and that they want help to surround the woods to make the arrests.
It is also reported that a neighbor in Harrison township was seen or caught carrying food to the parties in the thicket. This report has renewed the excitement and crowds are going to the thicket to assist in the capture. The streets are lined tonight with determined men and should the people capture the criminals, short work will be made of them. More excitement is manifested tonight than at any time since the bloody deed was committed. It is the general belief that there will be a banging before sunrise. Little Ethel the survivor of the butchery died last evening.

WABASH WRECK VICTIMS.

Several of the Wounded Are Likely to Die.

PERRI, Ind., Sept. 23.—It is feared several more deaths will be added to the list of the unfortunate victims of the Wabash wreck at Kingsbury. There are grave doubts at present as to the recovery of three or four of the patients, and very likely one or more will pass away before tomorrow night. William Perkins, one of the bell ringers from London, who was badly scalded and had a leg crushed, has been given up by the physicians. Willie Evans, another bell ringer who had both lower limbs broken, is much worse.
